

05.07.2025

Where I am as God and Father, there is heaven, for I Myself am heaven, My Spirit of love forms heaven outside of you and above all within you. I have built My heaven within you, and I live within you as Jesus Christ, mostly still enclosed in your hearts. But love for Me opens this door, at which I knock daily and whisper your names softly and quietly. Yes, I am not a God of noise, I am a God of silence and peace within you. In you you shall find this peace, which the world does not know, which exists only with Me.

It is a great privilege, My children, to be able to meet Me here on earth in the divine person of Jesus Christ, as I speak to you. I have become a visible God to those who love Me above all else. Yes, My children, to embrace your God and Creator and Father, to return home to His love, that is the goal of every human being. Every human being once set out to walk this path to Me through the ages; coming out of eternity, he subjected himself to temporal and spatial events. So also you, you too have gone into this valley of death called Earth.

But now life has called you. I am leading you out of this darkness and gloom into the light; I want to introduce you to the liveliness of My love and fill you with this liveliness. It is also My desire as your Father to make you happy; but for this it is necessary that you give Me space within yourselves, that you let go of the things that are transitory in this world, to which you still cling.

This does not mean that you should no longer move in the world. You have a task in the earthly realm, a profession, a family... You can also spend your free time in a way that is in accordance with My will, but do it with Me. Take Me with you wherever you go. I am always there and ready when My child calls Me and says: 'My Father, today I am doing this and that, please come with me, accompany me and protect me and work through me, speak through me to the people I meet and teach me also to be silent when I should not speak. And then I do that. I give you the impulses you need on the path of truth and love.

Yes, My children, I am with you. I am always with you, for I have placed heaven within you, and heaven is My dwelling place. And you, My children, shall be the revealers of this heaven. You shall carry heaven out into the world and touch people with the energy of this love. For heaven is the energy and the will of love and is the dwelling place of love within you.

Yes, heaven is within you. And I once spoke of the signs that will appear in the sky. What are the signs in the sky? They are the signs of love within you, they are the insights and revelations of love, of divine wisdom and truth in your hearts. These are the signs that I show you in this heaven within you.

And I also spoke of My coming in the clouds of heaven. How is this to be understood? What do the clouds mean, My children? For worldly people, the clouds represent the mind, which obscures heaven and prevents man from gaining insight into love and access to it, for the worldly mind blocks the door to love. But for you, My children, the clouds have a different meaning: for you, they are a symbol of grace and mercy, for from the clouds I pour out and give you the water of life: My Word.

And so, when I now and soon emerge from this veil of clouds and present Myself before the minds of worldly people and illuminate their minds, this will be their judgment, for in this light they will judge themselves, since their minds will be illuminated; and then man will recognise his evil deeds and realise that the mind is not life and is not the truth. And I give you the water of life from the clouds even now, for you the clouds of heaven are a gift of My grace and mercy. What a great difference, My children.

And then it says: The cross appears in the sky. What does that mean? Is it a cross that appears in the outer firmament? No. The cross appears within you and is the symbol of redemption in your hearts. And I am no longer nailed to this cross, which means that I have already been taken down from the cross within you, and have risen from the dead within you, and thereby have placed the resurrection within you. This is the sign of the cross in the sky for you, My children. Therefore, do not seek signs in the external world, but everything happens within you, in this process of spiritualisation, in this process in which My love rises within you and reveals this heaven which I have placed within you.

It is not so difficult, but you must recognise it: I dwell in you, enclosed in your hearts as the perfect God in Jesus Christ. Through your love for Me and your acts of charity, through your observance of the commandments I gave you, you enter My divinity as imperfect human beings. A union takes place, a merging of Father and child, a unity in the divine Spirit. Something wonderful that you may experience already here on this earth: the encounter with your Creator, God and Father Jesus Christ, walking together with Me on this earth, in this space of love in which I have placed you.

And I also said once: "You must leave your house and your possessions, your wife and your children, and follow Me!". What does that mean? Yes, when I call you to go to a person who is in need, you leave your home for a certain time and help that person. Or you carry out a task for Me, which I place in your hands and in your heart, and then you leave your home for a time. But that is not what is meant here. What is meant then?

This sentence has a spiritual meaning. The house, My children, is your consciousness, your worldly consciousness that you have built up in the course of your earthly life so far. The wife is your love for the world that you have formed within yourselves; your infatuation with the world is your wife. And your children, My beloved ones, are your thoughts that you have given birth to in this world, and which bind you to the various material pleasures and largely superfluous needs that you must also leave behind. That is the meaning of this sentence.

And so you see: It is a spiritual language that I speak. Matter recognises only matter, the soul recognises the soul, and the spirit recognises the spirit. The more your soul enters into the spirit, the more you can read the language of the spirit from Me, even in the written word (the Bible). That is why it is so important to deepen this connection with Me, so that the spirit of My love may be revealed in you, through you and from you. This is why I have trained you and am training you, to bring spiritual life into this world, to form My body on this earth.

This training is a hard school. You have gone through valleys, you have suffered spiritual distress and are still experiencing it. But everything that has happened to you and is happening now in this time is part of a certain divine necessity in order to achieve a result for eternity. That is why I emphasise again and again: do not look so much at what is happening in the temporal, do not give too much weight to time, but see what it means for eternity. Every hardship and every suffering is a process of purification, a liberation, a cleansing of the soul spaces in order to lead your soul into humility, for only on the ground of humility can divine love flourish.

By this I do not mean subservience, but humility, which means that My child says: 'My Father, all that is good is You, You alone are love and life, and all that is bad in me is mine; but You take my badness and give it into Your love, so that everything may be transformed into light and love. You are love and life, and I may share in Your life, so that we may become one, You as God and I as Your son, as Your daughter, as Your child, to enter into Your heavens for eternity.'

It is not something that happens very often or easily. A soul can only enter My heavens, the heaven of love in My heart, when it is completely purified. All the dirt and dust of this world must have fallen away from the soul. Yes, here in the material world you still carry the dust of the earth on your feet and on your hands. But the more you now cast off, the easier it will be in the spiritual world ... only a short way to My Heart. And you cannot imagine the joy that reigns in Heaven when a soul returns home to the Father's house. What jubilation and celebrations are then held.

And you cannot imagine what happens when a soul leaves heaven to enter matter, what divine energy accompanies this soul. What scenes of farewell there are in heaven when a soul leaves its home to enter this valley of death with the danger of being lost for a certain time. Prayers accompany you without ceasing, and during your temporal existence you are repeatedly given bright thoughts so that you may find the right path and remain on it.

And on this path I repeatedly set new courses and offer opportunities so that you may find Me and recognise Me as your heavenly Father in Jesus Christ, so that in the end you may return home. Therefore, recognise the importance of this earthly life and, above all, the importance of the present moment of your existence. For so much is being decided for you here and now. Therefore, come to My heart and do not let go, for I will not let you go.

I have walked through this land, through this small land of Thuringia, and called you by name. Yes, what is it actually about what this land once represented in the division of the great empire of Germany? A part of this land was split off and isolated from the world. In this way, I placed the people in a humiliating judgment, allowing them to be led by a power that ruled with a strict hand. And yet, I say, the separation was an act of mercy, for it preserved many good values: honesty, diligence and protection from decadence.

And the godlessness that arose in this country at that time was also an act of mercy: Just as the cold winter makes everything appear bare and lifeless, so too was faith in this country hidden under an icy blanket. But just as spring follows winter and everything blossoms in the warming rays of the sun, which melts the snow and brings everything back to life, so too has it happened in this country.

The winter of godlessness has reached many people here, and yet it was a preparation for what is now happening: that I am now passing through this country and touching My children and gathering them together so that they may arise in this new faith of spring in love for Me. That is you who live here. And so this separation was a good thing. And there is another meaning to the fact that one third of this country was separated from the other larger part. This was already a prophecy of what is now happening on this earth, for Germany forms the spiritual heart of this time of transformation. Only one third of humanity will survive this time and be led into the kingdom of peace and love, and two thirds of humanity will have to leave this world.

And the wall that was erected signifies the separation of spirits, that evil is separated from good by a solid wall and can no longer influence My divine kingdom.

And so you see: every act that manifests itself in matter has a meaning in the spiritual world. All earthly events are a prophecy, a realisation of present or future spiritual events. It is important to see the world with the eyes of the spirit and to recognise the spiritual, the immaterial, even when it comes to the hardship that will come upon this earth. That you see hardship with My eyes and that you recognise the mercy in all hardship, so that what can still be saved on this side may be saved, for on the other side it is not so easy.

For as the tree falls, so it lies. And then it is often a long time that a soul must still go through in order to become free from all that it brings with it from the material world. And that also means for you, My children: Let go as much as possible of what still binds you to the material world, so that your soul may then one day leave this world free and detached. The shedding of the body is nothing more than a visualisation of where you already are. For with My eyes, you have never left the spiritual world. Only the cloak of matter has been placed around you. You are actually always in your sphere in the beyond.

And many are around you if you could see the hosts of angels that now surround this room. If you could also see those from the beyond whom I have now invited... there are many, ancestors and forefathers of your families, who are now allowed to look in here into this circle and rejoice; on the one hand, that you are following this path, and on the other hand, that they are allowed to share in My Word and in the light that has spread here, but above all in the love. For love touches hearts, and many are in need of these little pearls of love that I place in their hearts. Each of My words is a pearl of love that I distribute; but as I said, 'I do not cast My pearls before swine, they are not for the people of the world who trample them underfoot and mock and laugh at My children. My words are not meant for them.

And yet I am also there for them, namely when a person who has previously ignored, mocked, despised and fought against Me turns around and declares himself ready to take a different path, then I stand there and am ready. I do not look at his past, but for Me, only this moment counts, when he stands before Me with good will and with the awareness of taking the path of love. Then I wipe away the past so that the person may be free of the burdens on his soul, for only in the freedom of his will can he love Me and, through this, love people. This is what I wanted to give you now, these words from My heart, these pearls for you, My children.

I lead everything to good, but I determine the ways and the time. But, My children, see what great freedom arises in your soul when you lay down a burden and give it to Me. This freedom that then arises for Me in you, and the lightness and detachment and joy that you then feel, is something that brings you a great deal closer to Me, that brings us a great deal closer together. Therefore, give it to Me. I am ready."

My children, you are full of gratitude and I am full of gratitude. How can it be that a God gives thanks, and for what? Yes, My children, your love for Me means more to Me than My divine perfection. Every heart that opens itself and offers itself to Me fills Me with joy. And this joy is carried by gratitude that a human child fulfils the trust I have placed in him, that he has walked the path and is walking it with Me, full of truthfulness, sincerity and faithful love. This fills Me with joy, and the gratitude I then give to the child is eternal life in My Father's house.

So follow this path to the end. There will be a short steep stretch where you will have to exert yourselves, where you will have to fight, but remain confident and firmly believing that I have all power, and remain devoted with your hearts, then everything will be well. As true as I am God: My Word is truth and life. Everything I say will be fulfilled in Me.