

12.07.2025

My kingdom is not of this world, and with these words I walk through this land (the Netherlands). And I have gone through this land to awaken the dead in the graves of the flesh, to touch those who are asleep, whom I have shaken partly with distress, partly touched with love, so that they may awaken into My Word, which I have spread over this land, and which I am now spreading here in this room.

The Word that is filled with light and love and truth, and that I Myself am. I Myself am the Word, the Spirit of the Word, who now touches your hearts in the depths, so that you may recognise that I am a God of love. And that I am a God who has only one thing in mind: to lead this fallen creation back into the light as a whole and each and every one of My children. So I have come to touch My sons and daughters, to take them by the hand, to touch their hearts, and then to lead them into My heart, into My love forever.

2000 years ago, I came to this earth to reveal My teaching. To show people what they must do so that they may see the way I have prepared for them and walk in the light of My love. The foundation of this path is humility and devotion to Me, in which lies trust in Me that I am a God of love and not a punishing and condemning God, but that My desire and My will is the redemption, the liberation and the bliss of all My children for eternity.

So I have now also called this circle together and opened My Spirit, My Heart wide to reveal to you the depth of My love, which I have also placed within you. Yes, I have placed all My love within you, My children. It is up to you to enter into this love, to love Me; that is the path you can, should and are allowed to walk in this time.

I alone am the Redeemer. I alone can free you from all burdens, from all distress, from all sadness and darkness that has now spread over this earth. Falsehood and lies rule this world, but I have built a protective cloak around you, a shelter in which you are together with Me, so that lies can no longer take hold of you. I have placed you in the light of truth. I place all My children in the light of truth who are serious, who walk this path with truthfulness, who do not drag Me along beside the world, but who are willing to make sacrifices for Me.

This is the only way, this narrow and steep path out of the world. Let go of the things that bind you to matter, so that you may be free and unburdened, for only then can you love Me, My children. The freedom of love needs light-heartedness, needs joy, and these can only be found in Me. Worldly joy gives momentary satisfaction, yet it carries death within it. But the joy you find in My presence carries life within it, eternal life. Only in this way can you walk this path cheerfully and not speak with melancholy and sadness: 'My God, why should I give this up now? It gives me joy, it makes my life worth living!' Yes, My child, for a certain time, but not for eternity.

And when you have once entered your spiritual home and look back on the times when you overcame, when you did not get angry with this or that person, but remained in love; when you forgave someone in love and patience who did you no good, who insulted you, who betrayed you and lied to you or did you violence; or the times when you no longer pursued this or that worldly pleasure, including sexual pleasure, but said, 'My love shall be pure in spirit and not be drawn down and bound to the realm of matter,' My children, these are the important and decisive moments in your life.

When you look back on these victories, you will be filled with joy. You will then say joyfully: 'Thank you, Father, for carrying me through these moments, for giving me the strength to be faithful to You in love.' My children, these moments decide between life and death. To remain in love, to forgive together with Me, to overcome, to be courageous and to say: 'No, I will not go the way that people go, the way that this world goes. I will walk the path together with my Jesus into the kingdom that is not of this world.' These, My children, are the most important moments in your life. There I will take you by the hand, there I will take you seriously, in this faithfulness to Me.

I died for these moments of yours. In these moments I placed My redemption, and in these moments I placed My resurrection, eternal resurrection. And therefore, every time such a situation arises, when you find yourselves in such a decisive moment in time, remember these words of Mine, that your decision is valid for eternity. Amen, My children, these are My words of welcome. Serious words, loving words, divine words.

Devotion to My love is the greatest thing a human being can do on this earth. To say: 'My Father, Thy will be done, I offer My life to Thee.' And to this I say: My child, then I offer My life to you. Just as you give Me your life in many facets and details of your earthly existence, so I give you My life in all its divine facets and details, divine life, My child. For that is the goal of every human being, to become divine in My love. For this purpose I brought this creation into being, so that I might raise children who carry within themselves everything that I Myself am and have. That is the meaning and purpose of this creation as a whole and in every detail.

Before I created you, My children, you were already contained within Me, as it were, as embryos in a state of unconsciousness. I had not yet conceived you as living beings, but you were sleeping in My innermost being, you were inanimate divine thoughts. Then I placed My willpower, love, wisdom and truth in you, and you began to move within Me, you awoke in My consciousness and recognised yourselves as children of love, truth and life. Full of bliss and joy, you were able to move within Me, for there is only one in Me; there is nothing outside of Me. And so you became alive through and through, rejoicing in your divinity for all eternity.

And finally, I set you free, I gave you free will, I separated you from the determination of My will. I gave you the opportunity to move outside of My will, but still with My love and life force, with My light. Thus, you became independent of Me in your will and could move completely freely within it. This gave you the opportunity to create your own worlds of thought that were not in accordance with My divinity. For you had and have the freedom to distance yourselves from Me spiritually, of course, for it is a spiritual universe, a spiritual creation in which you live.

And so it came to pass that a part of My creatures distanced themselves further and further from Me, and their consciousness grew cold, losing light and love in stubbornness and arrogance. And so, as you know, My children, out of this stagnation of the fallen spirits, I formed this universe, this material creation, which is now being led back into divine existence. And the centre of its heart is this Earth, which I have chosen to form children of My Heart for eternity.

For this purpose, I created the first human couple, Adam and Eve. First Adam, and from him I formed his love in the form of a beautiful woman, so that he might have a counterpart whom he could love, a mutual love, a perfect complement in love as two beings. Through them, humanity was brought into being, which now passes through these times. But now a time has come when there will be a great change on this earth. I announced it 2000 years ago and said that I would come again and establish My kingdom of peace and love.

Now this time has come. And for you, My children, I have already come. For you, I am a God of the present, not of the future, not of imagination, but I am actually with you in My divine personal Being, Jesus Christ, and I accompany you and guide you and speak to you. Although not yet visible to you, I am there to train you, to prepare you.

And you have already been prepared, otherwise you would not be here. You are in this process of spiritualisation, you have gained the knowledge you need to walk this path. You stand on a firm foundation, and that is Me. On this foundation, I guide you, I tell you what you need so that you can move forward, ever deeper into My love, . For this purpose, I have given you all the tools you need to work on yourselves. And if there are obstacles that you cannot overcome, where you feel you do not have the strength to overcome them, then ask Me and I am ready to give you the strength to do so, to support you, even to carry you a little way when you are exhausted and do not know how to go on and cannot go on. Then I am there for you, My children.

I will also come for the world, but not as a loving Father, but as the Law. As a God of truth and justice, I will visit this earth and bring everything into the light of truth. This will not be a pleasant moment for many people, but you will then be ready, you will already be standing in My light. And then people who are in despair, who are seeking support and protection, will come to you. Then you can tell them about Me and lead them to My ways, and tell them that I am a God of love for those who love Me.

Thus, this earth will enter into this kingdom of peace for a long time. And so it will continue until finally all matter will be redeemed. And I say: Just as there was a married couple, Adam and Eve, at the beginning of humanity, so at the end of time there will again be only one couple on this earth, a woman and a man. They will be the last people to inhabit this earth. Then I will first call the woman to leave this earth. Then only one man will remain on this earth, a last Adam, who will close the circle of humanity.

And when I then call this man, the cycle of this earth will be complete and everything will have been dissolved into the spiritual. And since this earth is the source of impulse for the created human being who wanders through infinity, this entire material creation will soon also enter into the spirit. Then only one will remain: a spirit who will resist entering into My love until the very end. But he too will return one day, he too will be led into humility, this great spirit of light, Lucifer, to whom I once gave all the light that I Myself carried and carry within Me.

And then, My children, it will be accomplished. This period of creation will then come to an end with the result that I will have gathered many children around Me who can work independently in a divine manner for eternity. Then, together with Me, you will bring new creations into being, create countless worlds out of your own divine consciousness, and it will be something wonderful that cannot be put into words, this bliss that will then permeate you.

Yes, and then you will look back on your earthly life and recognise its importance and what it means and has meant that you were allowed to put on a body here and now in order to attain the status of a child of God. This great miracle of creation: to be a true child of God. For this is not created with My omnipotence, but with My patience and love, raised in the freedom of your will.

And this is My great joy as Heavenly Father and My eternal bliss: to gather children around Me, children of My love, with whom I can interact for eternity and you with Me. I have prepared this for you. Consider it, remember it: you are gods in the truest sense of the word, but still in training to become so.

My children, I have now opened the doors to the kingdom beyond, so that countless beings from the light may stream in, and so that those departed souls who have already set out to go into the light may now share in this circle. And that My Light may also shine forth from here into the darkness, into the hearts of those who walk in darkness, who are not yet ready to walk the path of love. And yet I also place a seed of love within them, a spark from My Heart.

Yes, I once placed it in them, but they have covered it up, crushed it, pushed it deep back into their souls, into their hearts, so that this light no longer touches them and they no longer have a conscience and live in falsehood and lies and also in malice. But My grace reaches far into the darkness, and so this ray of light from My heart will now revive this spark... a small flicker of flame in their hearts to give them the opportunity to turn back.

For they too shall one day be placed in this divine redemption. And originally they were also spirits full of light and love, but they took the wrong path, were seduced and thus lost their way in the labyrinth of their thoughts. But I also go there, into these aberrations and falsehoods and lies. Not that these souls already hear My Word, for they have strayed too far from Me, and yet My grace is also effective in darkness.

And the other souls who have already set out on the path to Me in the light now have a share in My Word, so that their faith may be strengthened, so that they may feel love and willpower within themselves to continue on this path and now get to know Me better, to recognise Me as a God of love who also stretches out His arms to them and says: 'Come to Me, all you who are weary and burdened. I also went to the cross for you, I shed My blood for all who are in need and in sin.' These souls cannot see Me, but they hear My words. They echo within them and there is now an awakening in the spiritual world, here around this room, which now has no walls, but is an open space of consciousness, a space beyond.

And so My Word also goes out into the world of this country and the light of love spreads over this country, the Netherlands. It shall be a country of humility; the name Netherlands also has this meaning, for I have also chosen this country. It is a part of My Heart, just as Germany and other neighbouring countries belong to My Heart. And you, My children, who are here, who are citizens of this country, and also those who have travelled here, you are all called by Me; and those who give themselves completely to Me of their own free will, out of the love of their hearts, are chosen.

And so you actually choose yourselves in your calling, My children. I do not say, 'You are chosen and you or you', but your devotion and love for Me determine the further process and the introduction into a task for Me and the invitation to the wedding feast into being chosen. That is entirely up to you; that is the free will in which you have been placed. There is no compulsion, everything is free. In love, everything is easy. To be chosen for love is something wonderful. To belong to love and to be allowed to move on this earth, in this darkness, already in this space of love in which I have placed you. This love from Me flows into you at all times. You only have to recognise it.

You must enter this space within yourselves that I have created, this heaven within you. I do everything for My children. I went to My death for My children. For My children, I fight and struggle with all My divine power for liberation and redemption. Therefore, recognise this My love within yourselves. And rejoice in the path that you are allowed to walk and not have to walk. For joy is as important to the heart as water is to flowers. In joy, everything is easy. And in view of what I have prepared for you, you can rejoice. Therefore, continue to work on yourselves. I will help you. I support you. I carry you. And yet I also expect this seriousness, this perseverance, to walk this path together with Me. It is very simple. The world is complicated, love is not.

My beloved ones, now, at this moment, I am taking all your family members with Me, their souls. They do not feel it and do not know it. And yet they are now included in this space of love, whether they are in this world or in the beyond, whether they are believers or not, whether they are healthy or sick, whatever their state of consciousness may be. This is a gift of My mercy that I am giving you. I am now taking them in and placing them in this ray of My love and grace. And this causes a deep cleansing of their souls from within.

A person's consciousness is mostly on the surface, but I am enclosed in the deepest depths of a person's heart. From this depth, I now send out this ray of My mercy into the spaces of these souls, which does not have an immediate effect, but it will bring about a change. A gift from My Heart always brings about a change, sooner or later. Seeds that I scatter, points of light that I place especially in My children, in which I give you testimony that you mean something special to Me, that you who have set out to walk this path with Me are also a gift to Me.

I know of the distress of many of you: the worry about your child, your brother, your sister, your parents, your relatives, whether it be a concern for their physical health or their spiritual well-being. I know everything. I know every thought that moves within you. I know every worry you carry within you and every joy. I penetrate everything and there is nothing that I do not know and do not see, and there is nothing over which I do not have power in this creation and beyond, in infinity. I have the last word. Everything must serve Me, and I lead everything to good. And so this is now My gift to you, to place all your loved ones in this stream of grace and to move Me in their innermost being. First and foremost, it has an effect on the soul, so that a healing of the soul takes place. And yet it also has an effect on the body, so that healing can take place in the body.

When I speak My Word, its fulfilment is already contained within it. My promises and My gifts always carry their fulfilment within them. It is only a question of time, and sometimes of eternity. Some things take a little longer. But what does that matter when life is unlimited into the future? Does it matter when it begins? When death ends? Infinity is vast. Therefore, be comforted and believe and give Me your trust that it will happen.

I want children who are not weighed down by heavy burdens and worries about their loved ones. If that is the case, you cannot love Me freely, My child. Then you will always carry doubt and worry within you. You should be free in love, only then can we unite. Only then can we meet in this love that transforms you. Therefore, lay down your burden and give it to Me. I have carried everything for you, My child. All burdens have already been carried.

Yes, I am a God of silence and not of noise, as the world is. Quietly and gently I call you, My child, in your heart. When you withdraw from the world and open your heart to your Jesus, then you will hear My voice. Then you will feel the impulses of love in your heart and they will rise up in your soul and fill your consciousness with joy and security. These are the moments you so desperately need in this time, in this world, these encounters with Me.

It is so important to meet Me. Every day we should meet, and in this encounter your soul will be renewed and uplifted. The darkness disappears when I arise in you in the light. Give yourselves these moments and give them to Me, for it is also My joy. This intimacy with My child, something very personal, just you and Me, My son, My daughter, just the two of us in this space of love, where you can recognise Me in a depth that you have not yet known. It is necessary to recognise Me ever more deeply, what love I have for you and what you mean to Me.

Samuel: I received a message from Jesus this week, which I will now read aloud:

"As the human Jesus, I, as almighty God, experienced what it means to be subject to human weaknesses, imperfections and satanic burdens.

As the Son of Man, Jesus, I went deep into the sin of this earth, deeper than any human being before Me. I took upon Myself satanic pride, placed Myself in the raging stream of time so that impatience would seize Me, placed unbridled lust in Me, and pride and know-it-all attitude gnawed at Me.

I took all this and more upon Myself, over the purity and perfection of My divinity and love, in order to feel need and death in the bondage of the body of an earthly human being. Thus I humbled My divine majesty and placed Myself in sin in order to lift guilt and sin into the light of love.

And in order to cast spiritual anchors into all this abysmal godlessness in the battle of the Overcomer, I went to the place where I went after the crucifixion to stop the fall of creation, to initiate the return of all that had fallen, and to bind hell to heaven, so that grace and mercy might also work in the deepest darkness.

With this fallen human nature, I was able to give Myself, until the age of thirty, in the struggle with the sinful and satanic forces, the necessary depth, power and authority necessary to forgive all sin in the understanding of the difficult earthly life struggles of My children – even though I Myself did not succumb, but emerged victorious from the struggles, so that I finally became a whole God again in the unity of Spirit and soul, and then and forever also as a body in the God-person Jesus Christ, who I am and will be forever.

My children, I spoke earlier of the spirits who left My heavens and lost themselves in the depths of godlessness. But it was only a part of the angels who went astray; the majority remained with Me. They remained attached to My will and moved within it, and they still move within it today in their divinity. Now it is so that each one of these must once walk the path through matter; every angel of sovereignty must once step out of the prescribed worship into the humiliating depths of matter ... into oblivion, in order to find Me anew in the love of his heart. There are countless ones who will and must still walk this path, so that they too may one day return home as free children of My love to the Father's house. You cannot imagine how much time will pass before their number, which cannot be named, is fulfilled.

I Myself entered into matter. Why did I do this? There are many reasons for My becoming man. One of them is that I also prepared the way here. For if I had not gone before as God, then all these spirits who are in the heavens in adoring love would have said: "God, Father, it is easy for You to say. You send us into matter, into the death of oblivion, but You Yourself are here in Your heaven and do not know about the hardship. You have not experienced it Yourself and do not experience what it means to enter into this dangerous darkness."

Yes, My children, that is also a reason for My becoming human. I have shown the way. I have shown all beings that it is possible and how it can be done. I Myself went in and went ahead so that all who come after Me may also walk this path. And when you have returned home to the Father's house, My children, you will always gain new insights from My becoming human. New realms of knowledge will always open up to you, and in these new doors will open again, and you will enter into new knowledge, concerning My Incarnation alone, for My deeds are infinite.

And so it goes on and on in the wisdom of love. But this is not learning for you, but becoming aware. Everything that you are allowed to recognise in the spiritual home becomes a part of you. It is a certain automatism that passes into you from My divinity. And so you will grow and mature into eternity and gain more and more wisdom and love at My side. And yet, when you have grown in wisdom and love together with Me in billions of years, this knowledge will be nothing in the infinity of My wisdom. But for you it will be a lot and will become more and more, but you will never reach an end, for I am the infinite God.

I am present everywhere in infinity at the same time. Without end, without beginning, and omnipresent in time and space and without time and space at the same time. That is My essence, that is My consciousness. And you also carry this divine consciousness, this infinite space, within you: when you move spiritually in your soul, you will never come to an end, for there is none. You are My children, everything that is in Me is also in you: infinity, however, cannot be grasped all at once, as it is for Me. But as you move forward, you will increasingly understand and recognise the infinity of My Being within you.

Such words are intended only for My children. I can give this only to you who place your trust in Me, who long for My word. And I cannot proclaim the promise of My love to the world. It is a certain intimacy between you and Me, My son, My daughter. Just as a father or mother tells their children much more and tells them everything they would not tell strangers. So I, as God, do the same with My children.

And how do you recognise the extent of your sonship? How can you recognise your spiritual progress during this time? There is a very simple way to recognise where you stand spiritually:

If the feeling of immortality has already taken root within you, if you feel that you are immortal, not in your mind but in your spiritual consciousness, then you are already filled with My Spirit to a certain degree. And when you feel the awareness of immortality within you in a penetrating vitality, then you are already very close to Me, My children, then I am already awakened and risen within you.

For I alone am immortal. And the immortality you feel within you is Me in you. Therefore, test yourselves in this way. If you still fear the death of the flesh, then you still lack love for Me. But when the thought arises in you: 'My Father, I am already looking forward to my spiritual home, I would already like to leave this earth and be with You. My longing is already so great. I know that I will not die, but that I will live eternally at Your side,'

Then, My child, I will already have stretched out My arms wide towards you and opened My heart wide to receive you and embrace you with My love forever. Therefore, do not fear the death of the body. You can also pray: 'O Father, when my time has come, I ask You to guide me and accompany me into the spiritual world, to reach out Your hand to me, receive me and carry me over. And even if pain must first purify me, it is an act of Your mercy. For those whom You love, You test and purify from all the filth of this earth.'

This too is a gift, My children, a gift of My love, to prepare you so that the path to the beyond is a short one, or none at all. All these are spiritual realities which you can exchange for the illusory realities, for the illusory knowledge and the falsehoods of this world. Enter into this divine knowledge, into this other world of which I spoke at the beginning: My kingdom is not of this world. Enter into the world of My Word and My love. That is your home, My children. Amen."

I have already opened your eyes, you have insight into this distress, and it weighs heavily on you that there is so much misery on this earth. That is why I want to take this burden from you. Now you can give Me your requests directly in silence, in this timeless space of My Heart, in this moment and instant in which I open eternity. I take it into My Heart. But, My children, it is important that you do not take your requests away from Me again, but leave them with Me. For if you go back into worry about this or that person, then it is a kind of distrust towards Me. Then I cannot put My divine power into your request and the request into the power of My redemption. Therefore, when you present a request to Me, do so in faith that it will happen at a certain time, perhaps immediately... perhaps later. The measure of your faithful love for Me determines the measure of My divine power in you and through you.

That is why I once said to Peter: 'You are a rock in faith.' Everything he spoke in My name was a certainty for him. In everything he spoke, there was the certainty of fulfilment for him. He was one hundred percent aware and certain of My cause. This enabled Me to reveal divine power in his life. For whatever he asked of Me, whether it was laying hands on a person or interceding for someone, all of this was already a reality for him in his request. You too should have this faith, My children. Amen."

My children, once again I embrace you with My love and speak words from My heart to you. My heart is filled with gentleness and love. To My children, I am a God of tenderness, a God of care and compassion. This is who I am, this is who I have always been, and this is who I will always be. Love, love, love. And in this love I have now enveloped you, wrapped you up. Taken out of the flow of time for this one day. And yet, when you return to time, you shall take this eternal moment with you into time, so that time is a little less time and you feel a little more eternity within you, and also immortality.

Oh, if only I could show all people this love of Mine. I have so much love to give. But who wants it? That is why I have prepared everything for you. I give you everything that the world does not want. You who have agreed to accept this gift from My heart, I will shower you with love and joy, and gratitude will fill you. And I will lead you into a supernatural security and peace that the world does not know and will never know.

But your will decides, My children. I have shown you the way, I have prepared it, I illuminate it. The ground of this path is called humility and devotion. I have spread My arms wide, I have opened My heart wide and with My love I have kindled your longing more and more. The flame of longing within you will touch you in places you do not yet know. And then it is very important, My children, that you direct this longing, which also awakens where it is still focused on the world, towards Me. For there is always the danger that longing will become addiction on this earth. But I have already aligned you, I have aligned your souls towards Me. You only need to remain faithful to Me. Then everything will be well. Amen.