Children of My love, I have entered this space of time, stepping out of My divinity into the dark valley called Earth, to proclaim to you My Word, which I am spreading here in this space. The Word that is so important for you, so that you may recognise yourselves in it. For My Word is a mirror in which you can see yourselves, a mirror of love that I have set up here for you.

And so I also walk through this land with the call from My heart: You people of this earth, you people of this land, I call you. I am ready to take into My Heart every heart that longs for love and security that go far beyond the love and security of the earthly, to take it into an everlasting love and eternal security and into a joy and peace that this world does not know. I have all this in My baggage to distribute to those who hear this call and respond to it.

So you too have come into this room. A small impulse in your hearts said yes: I will go. I feel the need to get to know the true God, not the God of the Church or other religions. And so you have entered this room where I can reveal Myself to you as I really am. For this purpose, I have chosen an instrument. There are a few instruments on this earth that can reveal Me to this extent, that can show people My love, so that the fear of a punishing God disappears, of a vengeful God who does not exist; of a God who says to His creatures: 'I condemn you to hell.' My children, there is no such God. I am a God of salvation and liberation.

My whole desire is to make people happy, to show them the way they can go if they want to be free from the burdens and hardships of this earth. I already showed this way 2000 years ago and gave the commandment: Love God above all else and your neighbour out of this love as you love yourselves. For only I alone can give true love.

Human love is also something good, but it has its limits. Only when a person connects with My love in his heart does divine love awaken in him. This eternal love permeates the person in his actions according to My love. Then this person becomes more and more filled with this divinity from Me. For you are God's children; I created you. You are products of My thoughts, which I have placed in the consciousness space of My love. You are beings that I have thought and set free.

You are not bound to My will, but you can do whatever you want. That is what it means to be human: to be free in your will and in your actions. Only in this way can true love unfold, not in a set of rules and regulations, but in free will.

And if you really want to be free, then I say: My child, come to Me. Talk to Me. I am always there for you. I am an omnipresent God. When you think of Me, in love or in a request or intercession for a person who is close to you and whom you feel sorry for because they are suffering in their distress, then I am with you. I have given you this love for your neighbour and asked you to practise it. Pray for your fellow human beings and also pray for your enemies.

And you may also pray for yourselves, in the sense that you say to Me: 'Heavenly Father, I want to become a true child of God. Guide me so that I may find my spiritual home when I leave this earth and enter the beyond, when I lay down my body. That I may not wander in the darkness of the world beyond.'

For, My children, there is only love and light there. And movement only exists in a spiritual manner, that is, spiritual progress. And this must already be initiated on this earth so that you can continue your journey there. You do not travel to a country on this earth without first finding out how the people there live, what language is spoken, what the culture is like, what the roads are like, where you can live, etc. You concern yourselves with all of this when you travel to a distant country.

And so it is also important for you to concern yourselves now with the world beyond, to gain insight into the spiritual world, for that is where you will travel and where you will remain. For in essence, you are spiritual beings and not material beings. It is only the body that has enveloped you that makes you believe you are only matter. But if you look closely, My children, you are always in the spiritual world, in the world beyond, it is only hidden by matter.

And so, you who are now here in this room and have followed this call, I place you in this word of truth that I proclaim here and that I also place in your hearts, so that you can contemplate it again and again within yourselves, for it remains within you; it is a gift of My love, so that you may walk your path in the light of truth.

For there are many people on this earth who are following a false religious path. Some congregations and religious communities raise and wave their arms in worship, sing beautiful songs about Jesus, but these people live a fanatical faith, mixing the world and God and serving two masters. Others, on the other hand, live seriously and strictly according to the commandments and are afraid of doing something wrong, thus condemning all sinners to hell.

They all believe that they will go to heaven because of their faith, but they are trapped in false ideas either way; for them, there will one day be a harsh disillusionment and a rude awakening.

Yes, I am a God of love, but man must allow himself to be prepared for My love and for heaven. This preparation involves many sacrifices and humiliations and requires worldly renunciation. The path to heaven is narrow and far from spiritual comforts and religious self-deception; the old man must pass away so that the new man can arise in Jesus Christ. Worldly and divine consciousness do not go together; one cannot serve two masters ... and a punishing God knows no mercy and grace, which alone redeem man from all guilt and sin.

You are placed in the imperfection of this earthly life, where one does not always live as one knows one should. There are bad habits, there are thoughts that fill you with anger, with vindictiveness, with envy, with greed, with pride. All of this is contained in every human being. But there is a big difference between making these thoughts your own, connecting and uniting with them, and letting them pass by and saying, 'No, I do not want to harm this person or myself with such thoughts.'

For thoughts are energies that move in the spiritual world and strike other people deep in their souls, thus having a negative effect. And you always have the opportunity to let these thoughts go when they seize you, when they impose themselves on you.

And you have the option of prayer: "My Father, I ask You to lead my soul into purity. I do not delight in such thoughts, so help me to overcome them and let Your thoughts of love fill my soul."

This is a spiritual request that I will fulfil at any time, for I also want you to be free from the negativity of this earth, free from thoughts that burden you, that weigh you down, including thoughts of concern for this world at this time, for what is happening on this earth at the moment is lies and falsehood.

Yes, the gates of hell are open, the demonic world now has great power over this earth. Lies and falsehood rule this world, on this side and the other side. Demons are deceased souls who already carried out their evil deeds with humans during their earthly lives and who now influence humans from the world beyond with dark energy, with devilish energy. And then there are the demons who have once again taken on flesh at this time in order to carry out their satanic deeds on this Earth as humans.

But I have also assembled My army, sent forth My angels, some of whom have also come to this earth and taken on a body. Many of My angels are now incarnated on this earth, and I have also assembled a spiritual army which is now fighting the demonic world from the world beyond and in the world beyond. And so a battle is now taking place both in this world and in the world beyond, a final battle, a last great battle between good and evil.

I want to guide My children in such a way that they are placed in a certain protective space during this last time, for great distress will come upon this earth, even in this country. The German people have become arrogant and decadent. For many, and for most, there is no longer any God. Only the god of matter counts, but no longer I, their Creator and Sustainer of life. That is why suffering will come here too, to humble people, so that they may recognise again what is really important in life: love for God and for one's neighbour. And that is why I am now going through the lands and preparing people for this with these very words, which will also go out into the world.

And to My children I say: Now is the time for you to give yourselves to Me, so that you will be ready when the great need comes. That you will then already be walking by My hand, that you will then already have opened your hearts to Me, for then I can protect you, then you will have a foothold in Me, and then you will also be able to survive the worst world storm at My side. This is what I offer you; it is an offer of My love. But as I have said, it requires more than just drawing you close to Me beside the world.

It is a huge step towards Me that changes a person's life. To walk with Me means to leave the world behind. To let go more and more of the old person you are, so that a new person can arise in Me, in Jesus Christ. And everything you have done in your life so far, all the sins and guilt you have accumulated, I am ready to write in the sand. When My child comes to Me and says, "My Father, yes, I have done many bad things in my life, but now I want to walk by Your hand. Please help me, get me out of this old person, out of my swamp, and remake me in Your love,"

Then, My child, I am no longer just the almighty God for you, but then I am your heavenly Father. That is a great difference, like heaven and earth. For then I will do everything to draw you to My heart. Then My sacrifice on the cross and the blood I shed will be effective for you. Then I will place you in the redemption of My sacrifice on this earth, and at the same time I will place My resurrection in you, so that you can then be a true child of God for eternity. Then a peace and a love will arise in you that can no longer be described in words. This is heaven, My children, which I have prepared for you. These are words for you from My heart, from My love.

Jesus concludes: My children, I will go around and bless this small circle. And when you go out into the world again with this blessing, which will accompany you throughout your life, for what I bless remains blessed, then it is up to each person whether they reject this blessing or keep it in their hearts. I am always the one who blesses, but man's free will is his own great power. The power I have given you to decide for yourselves about life and death. Both are contained within you: the world of death, if you accept it, and I, who am the life within you and make you alive.

If you agree to preserve and carry this blessing in patience, trust and devotion to Me, then you will reach your goal, and that is My Father's house, where you will one day dwell, and where you may already dwell if you love Me above all else. I give you these words to take with you on your journey through the time that lies ahead; they will accompany you into eternity. Amen."
