

10-12 October 2025

My peace be with you. Yes, I have opened My heart to you on this day today, on the day tomorrow and on all days. You who follow Me, who have decided to take a different path than the one the world takes, a path away from the broad roads and beaten tracks, this narrow path that the world does not know and does not want to take, because it is uncomfortable.

Yes, it is often a lonely path, a path on which you are misunderstood or ridiculed, My children, because people do not even believe that there is a God, and they do not believe that there is a God with whom one can speak, a present God, which I am for My children, a divine Father. And so, on the one hand, I am the almighty Deity who brought this creation into being, these countless galaxies, where each galaxy forms an atom of the great creative man, this spiritual being who once fell from My light and My love, and on the other hand, I am a loving Father God to those who have recognised Me as such.

Yes, I rule the universe, from the smallest insect to the largest sun. All this is in My power, unimaginable for a small human being, and yet I make it understandable to My children through love. Love shows you what is hidden behind all these dimensions of matter. Everything is contained in love. In love, everything opens up that the people of this world and also of other worlds can never comprehend.

Only in love for Me does My Word open up to you. In this Word you will find everything that I have placed within you from the beginning. And the word that I speak to you here is found again in this word that I have placed within you. It speaks to each other and then it becomes one word and one life, and that is Me. In this way, as the external, infinite God, I connect Myself with the Father God within you and thus establish a connection and unity between the outside and the inside, between infinity and time, between God and man.

Well, I have brought you onto this path, this narrow path, as I emphasised at the beginning, away from all earthly conventions and false understandings concerning this world. Yes, My children, I lead you into the truth of how this world came into being, what the meaning of life is, and that the goal and purpose of your earthly existence is that you, once you have left this world and find yourselves as spirit beings in the great hereafter, then you may live at My side for eternity and penetrate ever deeper into My spirit of love, gaining ever deeper insights into what life, divine life, means and what I, as God, mean to you.

That is the meaning and purpose of your existence. I created you to walk this path, even through darkness, even through deep valleys. Yes, it was necessary to separate you from My presence so that you would be forgotten on this earth, wherever you came from, wherever you existed before, whether it was on a star in this galaxy or another, whether you perhaps even left the heavens to take up service for Me here.

Basically, it does not matter, because the goal is the same for all of you: to love Me. And to this end, I reveal Myself to you more and more, opening My heart more and more so that you may gain insight into how much I love you. And the more you recognise this, the more you can love Me. And so it is a unity in love. In this ray of grace and love, I give you My heart, and you give Me your heart in humility and devotion, so that it may become one heart and one love.

Yes, I entered into your smallness, into humanity, to bring you this, to offer you this, to offer Myself in this love of My Father Jesus. And so it is important and of great significance for you that you delve deeply into these thoughts, how much I love you, what I mean to you and what you mean to Me. Call these thoughts to mind every day, not only in your memory, but in your heart. For what you think and evoke in your mind is quickly swallowed up again by the abyss of time.

But what you think with your heart and what you place in your heart and cherish and caress and cradle remains for eternity. Therefore, meet Me more with your heart and try to pray in love for Me and not in intellectual thinking. Then a connection is quickly established, a bridge between your heart and My heart, My child.

What you want to know, your interest in spiritual things, is also important. But this knowledge comes from love. Therefore, enter into love first, and everything else will follow. You will see, for wisdom is the light of love. Love is the flame, and the light that comes from it is wisdom; they belong together. But first you need the flame, and then comes the light, and this is also the truth.

When a soul is consumed by love for Me and is completely permeated by this flame and this light, then it stands in the light of truth. And then there are no more misunderstandings and differences of opinion among My children, but then you are truly one in love and in truth, which is not yet the case.

And yet I unite you in My love, which you now feel, where I shine into your hearts, where My blessing spreads here in this room, and I say to you: My children, when you go to bed tonight, think this thought from your heart, yes, become completely still and say these words: 'My Father, here I am. My heart is open. Please give me a ray of love from Your heart, so that a connection may be created for this night.' And then I will do it, My child. So these words are now an initiation for this short time that you are here together. My blessing be with you.

My child, no matter what happens on this earth, no matter what situation you find yourself in, if you entrust your life to Me with confidence and devotion, then I will fill you with a feeling of security and heavenly home, so that everything around you will no longer affect you, but you will feel within yourself a peace and joy that cannot be destroyed by anything or anyone.

Yes, My children, there are such people on this earth whom I have already filled with My Spirit to such an extent that they have reached this state, untouchable and yet touching everything. Beacons of love in the darkness, who always carry joy and security in their hearts and pass on My peace to their neighbours.

And that is also your desire, to reach this state, to be allowed to live this way. That, My children, is what I offer you; I always carry this treasure, this gift with Me, and I go around and ask My children: Do you want it? Do you want Me to fill you with this spirit of peace? And then you have it in your own hands and in your own heart when you say: 'Yes, Father, my life belongs to You. I have developed such trust in You that I know You only want what is best for me, always and everywhere. Everything that happens to me comes from Your hand and from Your heart. And whether I remain in the body or whether You call me home... I leave it up to You. One is as much a joy to me as the other. All is well when I am allowed to live in Your love and in Your presence. You are my home.'

Yes, My child, that is possible. And you who have set out on this path and have already travelled a long way, have already come closer to this gift. It is not for nothing that you have walked through this valley until now, and it is not for nothing that you have fought these battles and struggled for love and let go of certain habits that bound you to material things. You have already fought for many things with My love and in love for Me. Your struggles were not and are not in vain. You are already perceiving My presence more intensely and are becoming more and more aware of it. And so this is a promise for you, to lead you into this space of supernatural security and peace that the world does not know.

My children, I reveal Myself here and now with the power of My love. And just as I have placed the heart of My daughter, who has just spoken to you (the hostess was overwhelmed with love in her introductory words), in My heart, and her heart is now completely filled with My love and her soul is permeated with the flame of this love, so too shall your souls be permeated today with the flame of My love. Yes, so Today I want to place your hearts in My Heart, for I have a big heart and have room for many hearts, and yet there are few.

Yes, many hearts would fill My heart with their love, for many hearts also fill a large space. But there are only a few people who give Me their hearts. Therefore, I make the small hearts of the few large, so that the space of My heart is also filled. And what makes your hearts big, My children? By letting My love flow into your longing. Then your hearts expand in this love. And in longing, My love grows ever greater until the longing itself becomes love. Then, My children, everything is only love. And that is the heaven I have prepared for you.

And so My blessing now spreads throughout this room, this room of silence, as I speak to you through My instrument on this day, which I have prepared for this task. And yet I would so much like to speak to each one of you within yourselves. That you not only hear the words from outside or read them, but come into personal contact with Me, a dialogue between Father and child, which is also so important to Me, so that I can guide and instruct you and tell you what you need. And that in these words we exchange with each other, in this togetherness and oneness, you may recognise more and more My love and My care for you. This is what I want to communicate to you with My words at all times.

But love itself knows no words. Love cannot be described. Love cannot be discussed. Love is what it is, unspeakable, inexpressible. And yet it is everything and contains everything that can be said. And that is Me.

So I have now gone ahead in words. And your words will follow Me when you discuss this in this circle, when you express what is on your minds, what your spiritual path and the path to Me mean to you, and what I mean to you. Speak it out, for I am here. Every word you say and every thought you think today goes into My heart. Here, these words and thoughts and your feelings are also permeated by My love. And then I give them back to you purified. Therefore, do not be afraid to confess now. But it should be done of your own free will. There is no compulsion in the spirit.

Love can only be love when it is free, free and unburdened. Love in itself is absolute freedom and perfection. Those who live in My love cannot sin, cannot make mistakes, for then everything is done in My Spirit, in My perfect Spirit of love.

I now place My Word in this space of silence. This Word now opens up. Everything is contained in My Word. There is only one Word, and that is Me Myself. I once spoke Myself out of Myself to let this Word become this creation. It is said: In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God Himself.

I Myself am contained in every word. I Myself am the reason and spirit of every word. But this spirit and everything that has to do with the word is changed by people. On the surface of the words that people speak, My spirit does not come to bear, but the word is distorted and twisted. And so lies, untruths, falsehoods and malice come about. Yes, what has become of the word, My children? What have people done with the word? And so I say: What have people done with Me? For I am the word Myself. What have people done with Me?

And then there are people on this earth who have taken a different path and who walk a different path, not the path of the world. With them, the word can show itself as it really is. With you, My children, I can show Myself as I really am and not as the world has made Me and what it has done with Me. Yes, here I am quite openly a God of love, a Father to My children. That is who I really am. That is My reality, this fatherhood and gathering My children around Me. That is My joy. That is why I brought this creation into being.

And you are part of it. You have heard My call. You have followed My word, and you continue to follow My word. You follow Me. What does it actually mean to follow God? What do you have to do specifically to reach your goal? Yes, there is the commandment: 'Love God above all else and your neighbour as yourself. But what does that mean in your everyday life? If someone asks you to accompany them for a part of their journey, my child, then walk the whole way with them. If someone asks you to lend them money in their time of need, then do not necessarily demand it back.

If someone asks you to listen to them for a little while, then give them your ear for a long while. If someone hurts and insults you, My child, then step back and place yourself in the ray of mercy of My love. Then this ray will penetrate your soul and make your heart blossom. Then your resentment and anger will be transformed into love and forgiveness.

And it is also about letting go of the things of the world that pull the soul into matter and thereby suppress the spirit. It is the power of habit that still binds so many of My children to the world and prevents them from reaching their goal. And everyone knows exactly what it is. I will show you. For now, in this time of decision, it is necessary to let go of many things. My radiation into your souls and hearts is growing ever stronger and gives you strength and courage, as well as the light to recognise the value of your path. That is why I am here.

I am ready. I am always ready. I say: My child, come, I will help you. Give Me your weakness. And if this space that you have made empty for Me, because you have given up this or that addiction, gives you a feeling of emptiness for a while and you feel unstable, then kneel down in humility in spirit and say the words: 'My Father, yes, I have sinned, but You set me free.' If you then no longer commit this sin, My child, I forgive you and write this sin in the sand, and then you are free from it and remain free from it.

My child, this has a lot to do with trusting that I have the power to fill the part of your soul that you give to Me with My Spirit. Yes, My Spirit flows into your soul like water flows down into an open container. Even if it takes a certain amount of time, it will happen. My word is truth, I do not speak empty words. Everything I tell you will come to pass. And so you see the divine power I have placed in you, so that you can achieve this goal already on this earth.

Yes, it is true that the old man rebels when he is supposed to depart, when he is supposed to pass away in My love. The old man does not want to die; he lives from matter. Everything you have experienced in your life so far has become part of your soul. All these parts are connected with each other. And when you give in to a sinful part, the others follow, and then you are led back into the old man, into the old Adam. But I say: I have long since defeated the old man on behalf of all people, and if you love Me and keep My commandments, then My victory in you is your victory, then the old man that you were until now sinks into the divine pull of My love.

My little flock, as you are here, there are a few on this earth, but I cannot reveal Myself everywhere as I do here, because your hearts are wide open and you face Me sincerely and truthfully and are serious about your path. But there is one thing you must pay special attention to, My children: you cannot earn the bliss of heaven. Your good deeds are done by Me in you and through you. Yes, it is said: 'Your works will follow you.' But it is not the shell of your works, your material deeds, that will follow you, but only the love that you put into your works, that is, Me. It is only love that prepares your spiritual home for you, not your outward works. I do that.

Therefore, you cannot earn heaven, but heaven is a gift of God's mercy to those who love Him. And it does not matter whether My child does one good deed in his entire life out of selfless love and thereby brings him close to My heart, or whether a person preaches about Me and does good deeds his entire life. I make no distinction. If one deed is done with love, it is worth as much as a thousand deeds done with love. So it is not the quantity of good deeds that is decisive, but the love contained in a deed.

But understand this correctly: when a person lives in My love, he does good deeds every day. Then it is an automatism of love. Yes, My child, then you can only do good, because your heart is full of love and overflows with love, and you want to pass it on to every person you meet. This then becomes a need for you, because then My need, My need for redemption for this creation, passes into your soul and you become an instrument of My love.

But you are not a hireling of My love, I will not dismiss you when you have done your work, but then you will be accepted into the circle of My family and you will be a true child of the heavenly Father. You already are. I have accepted you as My children. You are not servants, you are not hired workers. You are My children, and that is how I treat you. Namely, as I treat My own life, for I regard you as My own life. And in fact, you are, since you are taken from Me. You are a part of Myself, placed in the freedom of will, so that you may then return to My heart and be one with Me again in eternity.

My children, I speak to you every day. This is not only the case here, but you carry My Kingdom within you. You can enter My Kingdom at any time, I am always ready. I await you in the silence of your hearts... every day, every hour, every minute, I am ready to converse with you. Talk to Me as you would to your best friend, your brother, your father or your mother. Discuss all your problems with Me, all your fears and worries. You do not have to deny them before Me and say, 'I walk with God, so I must not have any worries anymore.

No, only when you give them to Me will you be free, so discuss everything with Me. Your most secret thoughts... I know them, so reveal them to Me, open them up to Me. In this way, we will always come a little closer to each other. In this way, we can meet every day in the intimacy of your soul, My child, and My love can flow and permeate your soul, which you so desperately need and so greatly desire.

And when you say, 'My Father, I want to live according to Your will. I am ready to enter completely into Your will. I want to give my life to You, tell me what I should do, for that is my great desire and longing,' then I say: Yes, My child, you are doing the right thing, for My will is your home. You were born of My will, you came forth from it. You have left My will, you have left your home.

Now you return of your own free will, and of your own free will you enter into My will, lost son, lost daughter. And My will is the perfection of love, into which I lead you. Every day I am ready, every hour of the night. A brief thought: 'My Father, here I am, show me Your love.' Then pause, My child, and you will feel My love. That is Me as Father.

But I am also a powerful and judging God. And this often raises the question among My children and among many Christians: 'Yes, how is it that God commands wars and murder?' I now put this question out there. And the answer I give you is intended for many people, which is why I address it here, so that it may be widely disseminated.

Behold, in My eyes, life and death on this earth have a completely different meaning than they do for you, for the body is dead and true life takes place in the spiritual world. And how was it back then when I commanded My people Israel to conquer the land of Canaan? The peoples who lived there were degenerate. They behaved worse than Sodom and Gomorrah.

There was nothing but fornication and self-love, and crime was the order of the day. The people no longer knew God or love (as is also the case today). And since My people Israel is My heart and My will and My arm, as it always has been and always will be, I stretched out My arm in them to destroy these peoples from the face of the earth. And their violent death was the judgement for their own violence.

This people of Israel still exists today. But it is no longer the people who live in this land; rather, the people of Israel are now scattered throughout the whole earth and are composed of Jews and Gentiles. Yet most of My children are descendants of the tribe of David, your bloodlines go back to that time. You are the new people of Israel, My children, and the heart of this people is in this land of yours. And the whole people form My body in this time, when I come again to this earth.

You are the executors of My love. You are the arm of My love and you are the mouth of My love. But no longer in the violent acts of battle in the material world, but you are fighters and soldiers and warriors and knights for love on this earth. This is the new people of Israel. I will lead you into the Promised Land, where the heavenly Jerusalem reigns above all. A radiant white light, in which My Heart is the dwelling place. I want to lead you there. I will lead you there, you who are chosen to serve Me in this time of change and liberation. This is also an aspect that I am presenting here.

And to return once more to the seemingly cruel God of the Old Testament. What about death? I have established My divine order in such a way that every human being must die. Is that not also cruelty? Am I committing murder against all human beings by placing mortality in this world? A different kind of dying and death, but also violent through illness and also through war and hardship, as happens today. It always depends on your point of view. From my point of view, however, there is no death. There is only the transience of matter, whereby the soul passes from one state, from one condition to the next. And therefore: what happened back then and what I commanded is nothing other than everyday death, but not through visible murder, but through the invisible angel of death who frees people from the flesh.

And to the people of this world I say: I am your God, Lord and Creator; it is My creation that I guide as a strict judge or as a caring father. It is up to you whether you oppose My power with arrogance, ignorance and self-love, or deny Me, or even smile wearily at Me as a silly invention of naive people; or whether you surrender yourselves in humility to My love and recognise yourselves in it as children of your heavenly Father, who loves you eternally.

Once again, I go around to bless you and to tell you: My children, I love you. And so, on this day, your love for Me has intensified in this union of our hearts, so that you have become even more one in Me and with Me and through Me. A foretaste of what once awaits you in the heavenly regions, in this city of Mine, where only My children are allowed to dwell. And there is a house in which I Myself dwell and reign. It is reserved for My children alone. And so you may ask yourselves, 'Yes, how much space do You have in Your house, dear Father? There are many who are Your children throughout all eternity.'

To this I say: Yes, I have plenty of space. The rooms in My house are infinite, just as the city itself is infinite and impossible to survey. There and here I will reunite you at My side. I have brought you together on this earth, I have linked your hearts together and they remain linked. And so you will be a power among yourselves on this earth, a divine power, even if you go your separate ways again, this connection remains and can no longer be broken.

And if one of you is in need and the others pray for this child, it will have a great effect. Therefore, stay in touch, spiritually in love with one another, but also in the world, by meeting where possible and praying together, for I am always with you. When you are together, I will be in your midst and you will feel it.

And one day the day will come when I will show Myself to you, when you will be allowed to see Me and when you will be allowed to touch My hands, and we will meet in the truth of My spiritual form as Jesus Christ. That is all for today in this wonderful community of love that I have established on this earth with your help, with your love for Me, with your love for one another.

My children, why did I take on a body here on this earth? In the infinity of this creation, I chose this planet to become God incarnate, to lead and guide the peoples of this earth, and especially the chosen people, and to create here for all eternity a place of salvation for the entire creation. Why here?

Well, some of you already know that this earth represents the spark of life of the entire created human being. And if this earth had perished or were to perish, the heart of this created man would cease to beat and the entire creation would die, would fall down into the eternal darkness of infinity and would be irretrievably lost. So I had to come here, so that this spark would not cease to enliven the heart of the created man.

That is the meaning and purpose of this earth. And My people, whom you represent, My children, I will keep the name: The people of Israel are also responsible for carrying My love forward into time, spreading My Spirit on this earth, so that the sinus node of the heart of this creation, this electric spark, as it is also found in the human heart, transmits the divine rhythm to the heart. That is why it is so important that you walk this path earnestly, for in the greater sense, you are not only responsible for spreading My teaching and My love on this earth, but you also bear responsibility for all of created humanity by living in My Spirit.

Each one of you is part of this impulse given to the heart of this Earth and thus to the heart of all creation. Every single one of My people carries this responsibility within themselves. That is why I also call you My children, because you take on tasks that until now only I have carried, and which I now also offer to you in your human existence on this Earth and then continuing in eternal life, from where you will then influence this Earth from the spiritual world of Heaven.

Now, My children, I see the thoughts in you: 'Yes, I have to. When I take on this responsibility, I feel a certain pressure.' But I would like to add: Of course, I bear the ultimate responsibility. I stand behind everything. Your motive for following this path should be solely your love for Me. And as this topic was already in your conversations today, that you are living in these end times, in this time of change and My return, it should not be that you say: '

I strive because we live in these times. Because of the end times and the Second Coming, I strive to become and be a good child of God. That should not be your motive, but only your love for Me, regardless of everything that happens on this earth. Only your free love for Me, and not forced love or love that is lived out under pressure, makes you free.

So let go of everything. Withdraw even further from the events of this world. Enter into My world and connect and unite with Me in love. Only then will you gain the right understanding of the events that are now taking place on this earth. Then you will no longer see it with human eyes, but with My eyes. Then everything will look completely different, because then you will recognise that the current events are one great act of My mercy and that the judgement that will soon come upon this earth springs from My mercy and My love.

This separation of spirits, this transformation of so much, this banishment of darkness to other places, so that this earth can finally recover after 6000 years of war and cruelty, both spiritual and physical. This is to happen now. And you are My workers in this time, but not in such a way that you worry about the future; rather, your concern should be solely My love.

My children, you cannot comprehend what it means that I have called you and that I have prepared this for you.

All future creations for all eternity you will do together with Me. In these spaces that I will create, you will place new creations together with Me from your spirit, which flows from My spirit. There will always be new creations, for the possibilities are infinite to bring into being things that have never been before, in ever new dimensions of love and levels of wisdom. I have been doing this for eternities, but I always did it only for Myself. But now I have created children for Myself, and so it gives Me, as God, even greater joy to do it together with you.

Yes, I dared to do it in this period of creation. I knew beforehand how much hardship, suffering and misery would arise in and with the granting of free will to the spirits. Yes, I knew it. And yet I did it, because every moment of hardship, every second of suffering, all the pain and all the blood shed is outweighed by a moment of bliss in My heart for My children. Therefore, do not quarrel and do not be sad.

Continue bravely on this path. Upright, sincere and truthful. Walk this path courageously at My side, and you will reach your destination.

Now I conclude this circle of love. Now you are spiritually connected, and the connection that I have created here during these days will last forever – this is the cycle of love in small measure. And so it shall become a cycle of love in large measure on this earth, so that then all human hearts in this Kingdom of Mine of peace and love may be as connected as your hearts are now.

And so it is on an indescribably greater scale in the heavenly regions, where there is actually only one heart. Where all hearts merge into one great heart. And that is My heart and My blood, which I have shed for you and for all people in this unique creation, in this unique event of My incarnation for all eternity and into all eternity. Amen. Amen. Amen.
