

29 October 2025

Here I stand in your midst, My children, to give you My love. You can feel the love that is now spreading here. This love is a flame, a spiritual flame that enfolds and permeates your souls, so that you become aware of My presence. And so you should always be aware of My presence, in every phase of your earthly existence, wherever you may be, whether among the crowds, at work, in solitude, in the evening when you go to sleep, or in the morning when you wake up. I am always with you.

I want to make you aware of My presence so that you are always conscious of it here on this earth, so that you move in the spaces of this world as if you were already in My spaces, in My great space of love, which is My heart. In it, you always carry this feeling of security within you: 'Yes, my Jesus is with me. He is in me and I am in Him.' And so, when you feel My presence, My children, then you also recognise My will. Then you know what you have to do in this world.

Yes, first and foremost, it is about living love. Regardless of what you do on the outside, it should always be love that carries you. Then you are in the will of My love. Everything you then do outwardly, whatever decisions you make in the material world, plays a subordinate role when you move in My love. But the deeper you go into the will of My love, the more you will also become aware of what you should do outwardly.

Your request is: 'My Father, Thy will be done. I want to live in Thy will. I know that Your will is perfect and that Your will is only love.' It is this longing within you, My children, that drives you, and it is this longing that drives Me to you and guides Me, so that in this encounter between My will and your devotion, we become one already here on this earth.

Yes, My children, it is true that the further you advance on the spiritual path, the further you distance yourselves from the world, the closer you come to Me, the greater the discrepancy becomes between you and the people of the world, between how you think, feel and act and how the world thinks, feels and acts. And so it is not easy for you to view the world with love and to bear with people. For the more you are in My love and in My divine perfection, the more frightening the world appears to you. At the same time, however, the more you enter into My presence, the more strongly the aspect of My mercy unfolds within you.

This is compensation for the fact that the world frightens and repels you more and more, that this world reveals itself to you more and more as a hellish world. Yes, in 'Closer to You, My God', divine love grows and reveals itself increasingly in the soul and not only compensates for the ever-increasing discrepancy, but the mercy that is then lived fills the soul more and more with the Holy Spirit and thus with My love.

And so, for you, it is already a life in this heavenly sphere, in this protective mantle of My love, in which you are allowed to move in this dark valley called Earth. This is the great privilege of My children, to be protected and accompanied by Me, to be filled with this power of love, always according to your devotion and your trust. Also according to your willingness to let go of the past. For there is still something clinging to you that holds you back, that separates you from Me.

But it is not that you are bound to it; rather, you yourselves have the power to open your hands and let go of what you are clinging to, to release it – it is up to you. And then I stand there, ready to receive you with open arms.

This is the final step that My children must take, this letting go, this complete trust that I will be there for you at that moment when you no longer have any support in this world. I am speaking of spiritual support, for I have often emphasised that as human beings of this world, you also bear responsibility for providing for your families, for not being a burden on others out of convenience, but for fulfilling your duties in the material world.

And yet live in this spiritual freedom, so that all spaces within you become free for My love.

Yes, My children, now the time has come. The seeds that I sowed 2000 years ago and that were buried deep in the earth during the winter of this world have survived the cold well and some of them have already sprouted. The earth has thawed in the rays of My love and many seeds have already grown into plants that bear the fruits of life. Yes, the essence of My Word, which is the tree of life and is Myself, stands mightily in the garden of the soul of My children, and some fruits are already ripe and become food for hungry and thirsty souls.

So now is the time when My Word is fulfilled and these seeds, My seeds of the Word, take shape in the world and become reality, where My Word is revealed to all people who are ready to take this spiritual nourishment, which is My unveiled Word, into their hearts. Yes, now the time has indeed come, which has been prophesied again and again in the past, often for the wrong times: My return.

You, My children, have entered this time to fulfil a task. On the one hand, you have come here to fulfil your earthly tasks responsibly, so that you may earn a living, so that you may exist in this world as human beings. But now it is also time for your actual task, into which I am leading you, for which I am now teaching and training you. It is the time when you must reflect on why you are on this earth and what responsibility you bear within yourselves, which you have taken on out of love for Me.

I have placed a treasure within each one of you. Hidden in the depths of your soul lies a divine talent that is now gradually opening up and must open up so that you can fulfil the tasks I have given you. And as was already said today: Each of My children has brought a special spiritual talent with them to this earth. And so, if you have not yet recognised this, it is important that you come to Me with the request: 'Father, I cannot yet recognise what talent You have placed in me, please show me how I can serve people in a special way.

And then I say: My child, the most important and urgent talent that I have placed in you is your love for Me. You must develop this first. But because the time of times has now come, it is necessary to assign My vineyard workers their destiny step by step, so that you recognise: 'Ah, this is my task and My talent, this is how the Father wants me to be, this is what I should do for Him, this is how I should live now.

The time has now come for this, My children. That is why it is so important that you encounter Me in the silence of your hearts, for My Word is a quiet voice within you. It does not penetrate your soul loudly and noisily; My words are gentle and tender, even when it comes to your spiritual activity for Me. Remove yourselves from the noisy media world and use your time for silence. So few of My children do this. There is still too much world in you. A clear break must be made so that the old man can die and the new man can be born in you through Me.

And there I see the thoughts: 'Yes, my Father, but I cannot think of You all day long. I cannot pray all day long and devote myself to spiritual things.' That is true, My child. Fulfil your earthly duties, but take Me with you. Take Me with you into your everyday life. Do everything with love, then you will do it together with Me. And practise patience, then you will be with Me. Being patient is one of the most difficult lessons to learn. To stand up to the raging torrent of time to which you are exposed and say:

'I am a child of eternity and not a child of time.' Yes, in the moment when impatience overtakes you, when you feel like you could almost explode inside because someone is slowing you down, overwhelming you, annoying you or whatever the situation may be, remaining patient is the highest form of spiritual life.

To do this, it is important to realise that you are, in essence, children of eternity. In eternity, there is no time. And in true love, there is also no time. The rushing stream of time is neutralised in love. Silence, tranquillity and peace reign supreme, and you find yourself in a state of stillness. When the world and time around you is rushing and raging and storming, you are safe in this quiet, peaceful, timeless space of eternity.

And once you have attained patience, My children, once you have made it your own, this powerful weapon against everything that rushes at you from and in time, then you have taken a great step forward. Patience also means remaining calm and loving in conflict and listening to the other person. Love and patience are an inseparable unity. I wanted to make this clear to you now in particular, because almost all of you lack patience, serenity and inner peace, which you can only find in Me.

And so go through the day with Me. Become aware of My presence even more often.

Think your thoughts together with Me. Be aware that I always listen to what you think and feel, and then we do it together. And it doesn't matter if you make mistakes. For spiritual learning is like learning a musical instrument, where you also make mistakes and produce discordant notes until you become a master of your instrument. The soul is also an instrument that one must practise daily in order to become a master of one's soul. This requires self-control, self-denial, self-discipline, but also self-respect as a child of God.

And all that I have now discussed and revealed to you can be summed up in one word: love. Love Me, My children, and then everything I have promised you will be fulfilled as if by itself.

Yes, each and every one of you is in a life situation that challenges you in some way. Each of you has a special cross to bear, an individual path of destiny to follow. Be it because it is a problem of your own, be it because it is a family problem, be it because it is a professional problem or a financial one. Each of My children is placed in a space that challenges them.

This is no coincidence. It is meant to be this way. I Myself have allowed it and guided you so that you find yourselves in this situation. For it is precisely this situation that enables you to make spiritual progress and to devote yourselves more deeply to Me. The challenges are precisely the steps I have provided for you that lead you closer to Me. All of you who are here, and also the children of God who are not present here now and will read and hear these words later, have entrusted your lives to Me. All of you have walked this path to Me to a certain extent. You have said, 'My Father, I love You, I want to give You my life.'

My children, I have taken you at your word. And now I challenge you in these situations in life to bring your words to life. That they are not just words spoken in passing, but that you ask yourselves: 'What value do these words I have spoken to Jesus have? Are they true words that I really mean? Jesus, my life belongs to you. My Father, thy will be done.'

The situations you find yourselves in now are precisely those that challenge you to recognise the value of your words. And when you affirm your words in thought and deed and take this step, entering into the trust you have spoken to Me, when you live consistently in these words, no matter what happens around you, then My will can become reality in you, then My will will become reality in you. Then your words will come alive in Me and I will come alive in you. Then you will have taken a big step in 'closer to You, my God'.

You are now faced with this challenge. It may even be a matter of life and death. Some of My children are in a situation where it is indeed a matter of life and death. And so it is important that you too, My child, say:

'Father, Thy will be done. My life is in Thy hands. I entrust my life to Thee, my health, my illness, everything that concerns me, everything that concerns my family when I am no longer here, everything that concerns my professional environment, everything belongs to Thee. I entrust my life to Thee with all its consequences.'

When you say this, My child, even if there is a danger that you will leave this earth, you open a new door for Me that was not open before, because then

I have a completely different access to your life. In this complete trust of yours, in this complete surrender of your life to Me, My Spirit flows into your sphere and into your soul to an extent that was not possible before, since your surrender was perhaps hypocritical or incomplete and not a matter of life and death.

And so you see, this too can be described with this one word: love.

Only in love for Me can this complete trust, this complete devotion, take place. That is why I open My Heart to you again and again in the encounters during the celebrations and in your quiet hours, for only then can you love Me more and more and thus trust Me more and more and devote yourselves to Me. It is always love that I show you and testify to you, so that everything I promise you may finally be fulfilled, now, here and at all times.

My children, you are surrounded by countless angels. And yet I say, and I have said it before: a heart that truly loves Me, a human heart on this earth that gives itself completely to Me, means more to Me than all the worlds, than all the heavens with everything that worships Me, for I am God, the One and Almighty. A human heart that has set out to become completely one with Me in love gives Me more than all worship, than all creation in eternity and infinity.

For this is what I, as God, have always desired: children who move in free love towards Me, who love Me above all else, freely and without constraint, who do not worship Me but love Me in a completely natural way; this is why I brought this creation into being. With this, I wanted to tell you once again what it means to Me when you love Me, My little children.

My love is vulnerable, but not to worldly people who deny or mock Me. My love is only vulnerable to My children when they turn away from Me after promising Me their love. I could remove this vulnerability from My love, but I do not do so because I want to be vulnerable to My children so that I am closer to them. This is the innermost love of My divinity.

This is how I have shaped Myself for you, My children, by testifying to My true children My fatherhood even in the vulnerability and heartache of My love, I, God and Creator of all being in eternity and infinity. This is what I once did for all people on the cross, and this is what I am now doing for My children in their hearts.

But tell Me, My little children, how can I testify and prove Myself to you even more? Tell Me how I can bring My love even closer to you... whisper it to Me in your hearts. My little children, would you like to dew My longing, burning heart with your love? My little children, can we not meet more often and whisper our mutual love to each other? Like bride and groom, heart to heart, far from all time and darkness, but free in the divine light of eternity, for the joy and bliss of us both.
