

15 November 2025

Yes, My children, once again I have gathered you around Me to give you My Word, the bread of life, which I distribute here in this circle, just as I, the Son of God, distributed bread to all who were hungry and whom I also satisfied with spiritual nourishment, who wanted to hear My Word. Thus, the miraculous multiplication of bread is the symbol of the miraculous multiplication of the Word, for the words I speak here go out into the world, and a few words become sufficient nourishment for many who are hungry for truth and love.

And this is not only when they are written, but they also go out now into the hearts of those who are hungry for food and drink from heaven, and I also place them in the hearts of My children who are still far away – these are the seeds of bread that I distribute to all who are lost and straying.

The bread you eat, My children, is also My flesh and My blood. My flesh is discipleship, is receiving and doing according to My word. And the blood is the sacrifice you make on this path, which is not easy on this earth. Only a small flock follows Me, for the masses want nothing to do with Me; they mock and despise those who bear witness to Me, to the risen Jesus Christ, who lives and speaks and is present today. And so you are a small flock, and yet you are My flock.

The meaning of this 'My flock' is great, for I have enveloped you in the protective cloak of My love. I lead you, as I once led the people of Israel out of captivity. I lead you through the sea of the world, which I have divided for you, so that you may pass through unharmed, in order to close the world behind you again, so that those who belong to the world, who love the world, who despise Me and you, may perish with the world, and then be transferred to other places. These too are places of My mercy, and yet they are places of purification.

And you who have the privilege of moving in the land of My mercy, blessed and protected not only by Me, but also by the hosts of heaven who have not taken on bodies like you, who accompany you, who pray for you, who give you thoughts of love, who stand by you in every need. They are countless, you do not see them, but they are there. And so we walk together as one great family across this earth, if one includes the hosts of heaven, the angels, a divine army, a divine people, united in My love.

And so now is the time when, as I have already said and am saying now, I will call many people from this earth, and I will also call God's children, that is, brothers and sisters from among you. My children, death should no longer be a source of fear for you. For My children, the removal of the body should be a deliverance and not a hardship, for it is the return home to the spiritual world for which you are prepared.

But I see the thoughts in you: 'Yes, we do not fear death, but the pain of separation from our loved ones, the loss of a loved one when a beloved family member is called away from this world, that is what worries us and causes us heartache, dear Father. And that is why we ask You to preserve the earthly existence of our loved ones ...'

Yes, My children, I see that, and to that I say: As the Son of Man, I experienced human heartache and thus gained understanding for your suffering and your distress. As the Son of God, I united human suffering and compassion with divine mercy, thus building a bridge from the human heart to the heart of God, between human sadness and divine providence. On this bridge, in this union, I have given health, preserved human life and restored it to all those who were willing to believe in Me as the Son of God and to trust Me with this power.

It is the same today. That is why I say: pray for one another, pray for the sick and dying, but above all for the salvation of their souls. And you may also ask Me, if it is the

It seems that one of your loved ones must leave this earth and that the pain would bring great distress upon you: "Dear Father, grant health, do not take this person from me." Then I weigh the lawful decree against divine compassion. And then I do what is necessary. There are always pros and cons regarding what I allow and what must happen and what I do not allow to happen, and My decision is always perfect.

Therefore, you can always trust that I will make everything turn out for the best, no matter what happens and how it happens. But remain in a humble attitude of supplication: "Dear Father, I ask You for this and that, but Your will be done," then all will be well. And know, My children, that I have often changed My divine providence, prepared a new path because of a child's request, and averted illness, hardship and death from a person or a family. All this is within My power. You can trust Me with all this, put your trust in Me and surrender your lives to Me.

And yet: always be ready to leave this earth. And it is very important, My children, that you are at peace with yourselves and with the world. For anything impure cannot enter My kingdom. Everything must be cleared up before you can enter heaven. And if there is someone in your life who constantly annoys you, who repeatedly insults you, who hurts you or your loved ones, then clear this up every day anew by speaking to Me in the evening: "My Father, I cannot come to terms with this situation. I am annoyed with this or that person, I cannot forgive him, please help me."

If you open your heart to Me like this every day, I will say: 'Because you have entrusted yourself to Me, I have the opportunity to stand by you in your weakness and imperfection, to comfort you and to write your sin in the sand. Tomorrow you will try again, and every day anew, not to let these thoughts of anger, unforgiveness and vindictiveness arise. So we move forward step by step, My child. That is enough for Me. Come now to My heart. All is well. Come, let us continue together.'" Yes, this is how I speak to My children.

And so you will come ever closer to Me, in the disclosure of your soul's weakness, your faults and imperfections, and at the same time My forgiveness and the revelation of My love. This is the path you must walk together with Me. You have already come a long way. Many of you have already passed the greatest tests. Some of you are already able to forgive even your enemies, to lay everything before Me and say: "My Father, I feel Your forgiveness in my heart. I may give this forgiveness to this person and that person who did or does me harm."

Therefore, continue courageously on this path of renunciation, even self-denial, and yet of great joy in being with Me, in being My child, in being placed in this space of redemption, in this space of truth and divine love that never passes away. Yes, My children, once I have called you and once I have placed My word in your heart, as I am doing right now, I will never leave you again. And as I have already said: I will leave all My heavens to search for every single one who has lost his way in this world, and I will not give up until I have found you again, My child.

So let these words be inspiration, comfort, hope and confidence. In these dark times, I am the light in your hearts, I am the light in your lives, I am the love that sustains you and that you can live. In this way, you can manifest Me in your lives, first in your small circle and then, according to your faithfulness, you will carry Me out into the world. Your presence alone will cause an awakening in some people, for then My light will shine from you and touch the hearts of people.

And when hearts are touched, you can proclaim My Word, and you will then also know to whom you can and may speak, for then you will have the light, and then you will also know upon whom you can lay your hands, for then you will be bound up in My Will, and there will be clarity in your soul and a matter of course in which you will work and live. No doubt can arise in you anymore, no uncertainty, but every step will be a firm step at My side. This is a wonderful life that I promise you: to be allowed to live here on earth in the unrealizable presence of God.

These are My words of truth, words that will come true, as true and certain as everything I think and do comes true, on this side and beyond time and for all eternity.

My children, you see that I have already prepared some of you to proclaim My Word, and there will be more. On the one hand, that I speak through you, and on the other hand, that you live love, selfless love, that too is the living proclamation of My Word. There is a very simple means of being further prepared for this: remove your ego from your life, then I will be your life. This is only possible through love for Me. Love Me, then I will become more and more in you and you will become less and less in you. Then your little and My much will become one. Your will to serve Me and My will to accept you as a servant of My love will become one. Then you will walk this earth in this unity with Me. That is the goal.

And that is why there are these words, these serious words. For to accomplish and achieve this is truly no easy task. It is the highest thing a human being can achieve on this earth. It is a great challenge for you, My child, to withdraw so much and let Me work again and again in you and through you, so that the union of our hearts can take place. Yes, sometimes you have to force yourself and fight and struggle with all your strength and courage to say: "No, I remain in love with these people. No, I will not take this step into the world now, when I am used to doing this and that over and over again."

These are the decisive moments in your life when two doors open. One for the path you continue to follow in the world, and one for the path I have prepared for you. And yet I also say: once you have reached a certain spiritual level where I can touch your hearts again and again, where I can intervene in your lives again and again, and you then see My guidance and My affection for you, your position will become ever more secure and your hold on Me ever stronger. Then, over time, it will become easier to trust Me, for you will receive confirmation from Me that everything is as it is and that you are not imagining your transformation towards the divine.

And so, on the one hand, it is self-control, self-conquest with the power of your will, and on the other hand, it is this tenderness, the tenderness of love. To bring both into harmony, the hardness towards yourselves and the softness and also fragility of love for Me and for people, that is a great art. You have to learn that, it is a process. And yet, the tenderness of My love will permeate the hardness and strength of your will as you progress, so that it becomes one, so that your will no longer consists mainly of having to fight and struggle and overcome and do violence to yourselves, but so that everything is accomplished by the power of love within you. Then it will be accomplished when divine love rules your soul and your will.

I am leading you there. Believe that it will happen. It is necessary to keep this door of faith open, that you are worthy to enter into deification. I alone know why I have called you, why you are in this space of salvation. Do you know how many past lives you have already lived? What preparation each and every one of you has undergone for eons? One day it will be revealed to you, and then you will know why the circle of life is now to close for you and you can and will enter My kingdom.

This belief that it is so is an important aspect of your motivation. You must banish self-doubt and feelings of worthlessness from yourselves. Yes, humility before Me and reverence for Almighty God is good. But also feel within yourselves the value of being children of Almighty God; believe it firmly. Only then can it happen.

To do this, it is necessary that you banish all worldly thoughts from yourselves, for the world does not believe in the possibility of the deification of the soul, and it does not believe in the presence of the risen Jesus Christ, who is here now, ready with open arms and an open heart. The world does not believe it, so banish the world from yourselves, that I may arise in you with My Spirit and fill you with the awareness of being a true child of God.

"My children, as you sit here in your visible form, you are human beings. And then you say you have a soul. But you know that you are actually a soul. In truth, you are soul beings who have formed physical matter around yourselves in order to exist on this earth. Within this soul is a human being, a God-man, which is what you are in your perfected form. The perfection into which you will enter is therefore already contained within you in your personal identity. In this human being, which you are in the true sense, I am the animating principle as Jesus Christ. I am the heart of your perfection. Of course, a heart also beats within Me; this is the Father within Me, My love. When you, as an outer human being, enter into love for Me, into My heart, you pass through the individual aspects of soul and your own spirit identity and connect directly with My heart, that is, with My love, which I am as Father. There and from there, perfection occurs.

Completion therefore does not happen from the outside in, but in the love for Me within you. In becoming one with My heart, completion happens from the inside out, in that I permeate your completed human being, take this outwardly into your soul and thereby unite it with your divinity, and finally the body is also included, so that a unity of body, soul and spirit is created.

This is the act of perfection that every human being should and, in fact, must achieve. You have already entered into this process, for you stand in the required love for Me and your neighbour, each according to his own development and devotion. So it is not the case that this is still far away from you. By connecting yourselves with My heart and uniting yourselves with it in part, and by truly and seriously walking the path of discipleship, you are already in the process of spiritualisation.

So understand now that spiritual rebirth does not happen primarily through your doing good works, and that salvation therefore comes from outside to inside, but that it is brought about solely through the bond of love to, with and in Me. The works that you do, you know, are actually done by Me, for only I am good and true, and I alone am the life force that can bring about good works. But I take you with Me in this, so that it appears that you are doing these works. You should also view your actions in this sense, saying: "My Father, You are all that is good in me, but You give it to me as if I were doing it."

Yes, I do this with My children, I entrust My good works to them, I give them to them, so that they may follow them and then live in these works. And when I once said, 'After all the good you have done, confess that you have been useless servants,' understand this sentence in this light: Your uselessness is your humility in confessing that I do all that is good and that without Me you are incapable of doing anything good. Only humility can understand this correctly and rejoice in this circumstance. In this humble awareness, you are no longer a servant, My child, but My beloved child.

Thus, I have given you another little light in this dark world, words that you can then read, which is also important in order to reflect and understand the events on this earth, both on a material and spiritual level. For you are to walk this path in the light, in My light and in My love.

And so, when you now confess in the circle what burdens you or gives you particular joy on your path, when you bear witness to My love or express a doubt, it is good for you to open yourselves. For you speak it to Me, who stands in your midst. Each of your questions, each confession, each revelation of your soul goes directly into My heart. And My heart purifies your distress, My child, or increases your joy.

For My heart is like a mirror, a purifying mirror that reflects back to you in the light all that you give Me in your darkness, or a magnifying mirror that reflects back to you all that you give Me in joy, trust and devotion. That is why it is so important, My children, that you consult with Me every day, whether in a small circle, in a large one, or even 'just' the two of us, you and I, My son, My daughter.

And that we meet in the silence of your heart, in this peace that the world does not know, where we talk, where no one listens to us but you and I. There you tell Me your troubles and I take you in My arms, My child, dry your tears and gently stroke gently over your head, so that you may recognise Me even more deeply in the truthfulness of My heart, where no thought of the world can penetrate, where no darkness can reach, where all is well.

And every moment of encounter with Me will seem like an eternity to you in retrospect, which you will then take with you into your time. Yes, the joy before each encounter will lead you more and more often into My heart, so that you will say: "I look forward to meeting my Jesus again today in this space of His heart and being able to tell Him everything that is on my mind, be it joy or distress, He is there and waiting for me." Yes, My child, every distress, every worry, every joy, tell Me everything that is on your mind and weighing you down. I am ready.

My children, confessing and revealing yourselves in My presence has a great effect on your consciousness, on your mind and on your heart. Everything you have said, you have given to Me. I take it into the space of My mercy and also into the space of My power and divine authority. And so, in this connection with My love, your words have the power that I have – for you, this is the power of prayer, as I have often emphasised.

And so you can now be confident that everything you have offered Me will undergo a change if it is a need, and will undergo a deepening if it is a joy or a desire and a longing. I place My Spirit and My love in all of this, so that you may continue to move forward, courageously and bravely through this valley of death, which is also the valley of life. For only here are God's children conceived, and only on this planet can one find the direct path to My heart. In your short time on this earth, in this breath of eternity in which I have placed you, you may grow up to become like God and equal to God.

And see how many leave this earth without having been enlivened by a single spark of My love and My Spirit. They still have long and arduous paths to travel, through many valleys full of toil and tribulation, over millions of years. And you can attain perfection and reach this highest goal in a few years. Therefore, do everything you can to make good use of these years. Make good use of this divine gift that I have given in this time, and then it will happen: the fulfilment with My Spirit, with My Spirit of love, which you so greatly desire, this entering into My Heart, from which I once took you, and now the cycle of your journey through time and eternity is complete. Amen.
