

21 February 2026

Once, when you went into time, into this dark valley called Earth, I promised you faithfulness, faithfulness in the sense that I will never leave you, no matter which paths you take, no matter whether you turn away from Me in the blindness of this world and go your own ways. I will follow you, I will accompany you into the dark valleys of your thoughts, words and deeds, and I will not rest or relent with divine patience until My words to your hearts bear fruit and you turn back to Me.

You have done so, and thus your longing for Me has blossomed, and this longing has become love, love for Me... faithful love. And so My faithful love has united with your faithful love. It has become a love for one another; and I, as your Father with all power and glory in Jesus Christ, lead you out of the death of this world into the resurrection in Me.

My children, you are already in this resurrection, in the divine preparation, so that I may then arise completely in you and you in Me for all eternity. But you still have struggles to endure, I still have to test your spiritual steadfastness, some more, some less, that is necessary. These tests are different for everyone and indispensable for everyone... but here too, the following applies: those whom I test, I also love very much. So even in the test, remain in this faithful love for Me, in this devotion.

Some souls need these tests, and some souls need a life that is not so full of difficulties; this is entirely individual, My children. I am a perfect God and give everyone what they need to enter My heart. Therefore, do not compare and say, 'Why do I have to struggle so much and he or she does not! You do not know in what condition your soul came to this earth, and what you have already gone through in terms of preparation, maturity, and struggle before this incarnation.

For some of you, it was a great struggle to enter the flesh. For some of you, that was already the decisive struggle, so there is no longer necessarily a need for these deep valleys on this earth. Yes, for some of you, the departure from the light was difficult, preceded by an inner struggle to leave the land of love. Some of you came here directly from heaven to fulfil a task in this time.

But in order to unfold the divine potential contained in the soul, the school of humility is necessary, through which My heavenly children must pass for a short time, so that what is so important for the task that still lies ahead of you can unfold, be it a small task to guide and teach in everyday life or a larger mission. It makes no difference; what is important is the love in it, only the love with which you do things in your everyday life or in a divine mission counts.

Therefore, ask for nothing, but say: 'My Father, Thy will be done, lead me into the task You have planned for me, help me to realise Your plan for me on this earth.' With these words, My child, you have opened the door to My will, then I can guide you in the way that is right for you to reach the goal that you have set together with Me for this time.

And so, My children, you can always be full of joy in this: 'My Father, Thy will be done.' Perfection rests in this, and in this perfection you may then move, in this surrender to My will, which is the greatest thing a human being can do. My child, then you are safe in Me, all is well ... in this surrender to My love.

Living in My will does not necessarily mean that you cannot also act independently on this earth. You need not be afraid when you do something of your own accord and will, but do it with love; include Me in your thoughts, in your consciousness, do everything together with Me, then you will move in My will, then you will recognise more and more what is right for you, what you should and should not do.

And so we walk this path together, My child, hand in hand, heart to heart, through this dark valley. Yes, I said it is a valley of death, but it is also the valley of life and resurrection, if you walk with Me, for only here on this earth can this noble and highest goal be achieved and realised: to be a child of God forever, together with your heavenly Father, your brother, your best friend, Jesus Christ.

Look into your hearts, My children, can you imagine any other eternal life than living at My side, in My house? I draw to Me the children I have chosen for this, gather and unite these children of Mine to tell you that you have the opportunity to realise this. Not that there is any certainty, for your will is free, but the door to My Father's house is open to you. Therefore, live according to My words, be merciful to those who do you no good, do not judge, lest you be judged, for judgment is Mine, I am the Judge and I am the Law and I am Justice, and in justice there is no mercy.

Yes, I will send a spark of My wrath to this earth and spread it over it, so that people may recognise that there is a God above all and that they are not their own gods; that there is a God who created them, whom they need and without whom they cannot live. Yes, I will cleanse this earth of the filth of sin and the rot of falsehood and lies. And it will not be long, My children, before it happens.

I have been watching for a long time. But I have also told you that I am still delaying a little. On the one hand, so that you still have time to walk this path to Me to the end, where I will then lead and place your souls permanently in My perfection and you will thereby be perfected (fulfilment with the Holy Spirit, rapture). And on the other hand, because it is possible that many sinners and deluded people may still repent and be saved and not fall into the abyss that permanently separates the spirits.

Light and darkness are being separated at this time, and many are yet to enter into the light. That is why I, as God, am fighting. And that is why I have sent you out, so that you may be My agents on this earth. Yes, I did not say to you, 'Go into this world, and there you will find peace and love.' No, I said, 'You must bring love and peace into this world.' That is your task. You are My will. Therefore, be aware of the responsibility of your existence on this earth. But as I said, I do not urge you; it is a process of liberation. But I also say, 'Make an effort.'

And so, My children, now that I have spoken these serious words, let us devote ourselves to the joy of this gathering, this community of love. Yes, I have linked your hearts together with the bond of love. From My heart, rays go out to you, to every single heart in this room, so that there may be unity, a small earthly unity of love with Me at the centre.

And if you could see the hosts of angels around you, countless in number, who are now looking in here, for the heavens have opened; angels who have not yet entered into the flesh, but also children of God who have already walked this path long ago and more recently. They themselves have walked this path, they know about the struggles, about the hardship, and that you do not see Me, but alone in faith you may and must grow strong. This is no easy task.

Yet many thoughts of love flow into you. Much protection is given to you by the beings from the heavens. For the demonic world is constantly trying to bring you down, and so you also have support from the heavens. But it is often the case that you yourselves open the door to darkness, for there are still dark spaces in your soul that need to be freed. As long as these exist, they are entry doors for negative energies that can bring you down. Therefore, room by room, your soul must be freed. And when that has happened, no attack can harm you anymore, for then all doors will be closed. Then your soul will be a realm of love and joy. And when that has happened, you will be sealed in My name.

It is your desire to reach this state, to no longer be brought down, but to live all the time in this ray of light, in this ray of grace of My love here on earth. That is My goal for you, that is your goal for Me, and we are working on it together. Therefore, rejoice that you are not the only small flock, you are one of several flocks in this world that stand in this grace, that you stand in the light of truth, that you may go forward in My Word in the darkness of this world.

I make you aware again and again of this great grace in which you stand, for consider how many souls on this earth wander blindly, either seeking their God in the wrong place ... or seeking no God at all. How many paths they still have to walk, how many valleys they still have to traverse, valleys of their own making, full of darkness and lies over centuries, millennia, millions of years, if you calculate it in years. And you stand at the entrance to the light. Consider what this means and rejoice that you are allowed to live among so many dead on this earth.

My sons and daughters, as your heavenly Father, it is my great desire to share my love with you. As God, I am outwardly the Creator, Sustainer and Judge of this creation. But I have often revealed my innermost being to you, the innermost part of my heart, where I am pure love. Everything that takes place externally in this creation needs a certain order, a guideline, needs laws that also arise from love, for in fact everything happens out of love and mercy; even judgement is an act of mercy to lead souls back onto the right path.

But for My children, I love to reveal My pure love of heart, to tell you how much I long for a human child who loves Me, what joy rises up in Me as God when a soul has set out with the words: "My Father, I love You." My children, then the whole of creation is pulsating with the excitement of My love, and all the planets, stars, suns, all the realms of heaven and the world beyond are flooded with My joy.

This joy of love within Me is like a wave, a surge that permeates this creation, making everything that is already in My light even lighter, brighter and more loving, and this is the effect of My children's love for Me. This is also something you do by loving Me, by enlivening the whole of creation with My love, to My joy and to the joy of all in heaven.

It is My need to share My love with you that I call you together. But I also speak these words to each one of you in your heart. However, you can only hear them if you enter this space of love that I have created within you. Only then will you receive these words that I speak aloud to you here through My Son. You can receive them yourselves in this devotion. No special or prophetic preparation is needed, for I have created this channel for all My children, for this intimacy between Father and child. Therefore, often enter into silence together with Me. I am waiting for you. I love you.

My children, I repeatedly bring difficult people to you. People who do not wish you well and do you no good. And there, stand very close to Me, open your consciousness to Me and let Me work in you and through you in love, so that I may touch this or that person and plant a seed of love in their heart through you. And if you do this more and more often, My presence in you will become more and more intense. Then you will no longer need to think, 'Father, where are You?' Or, 'I must now enter into Your presence, Father, please help me.'

Instead, I will always be in your consciousness, I will be your love and I will be your life. And when I have become your life, then life itself will be enough for you. Then you will be filled with life. And life is everything, life contains everything. All you need is to live in Me, everything else will follow. Therefore, live love, for it alone is life, then all will be well.
