

24.11.2024

My children, with the power of love I have entered this room to give you the word of My love from My heart, to give you the bread of life, which I distribute to all My children who are ready to follow this path, who have aligned their yearning with Me, to whom I have become the only goal on their journey across this earth, who have turned their eyes away from the hustle and bustle of this world and have recognised that true life and true love only exist with Me and in Me.

And so I have come to draw from this infinite vessel of love, to give you My Word in general and in particular. And so My peace has descended upon your hearts as well, to soothe your souls, so that you may recognise the depth of the words, the depth of love, so that you may gain knowledge and insight into My Being, into what I am to you and who you are to Me. Yes, I tell you, I am everything to you, for My children mean everything to Me.

And when a child sets out to conquer My heart, then I open My heart, then I prepare the way, which is indeed narrow on this earth, but with Me, My children, it is the way of truth and of life. And what is there that is more secure and more truthful than to go this way? It is the meaning and purpose of every created life, in this world and beyond.

You are still in this world, in the flesh, and are not able to see Me. You are moving in the realm of faith. And this faith and loyalty that you show me through your love for me has moved me to touch you, to open the doors and prepare the way into this room, now that heaven has opened, as I stand in the midst of this, my small flock and herd, and now many in the heavenly realms are also looking in, joyfully taking part in this round.

Some of them are your brothers and sisters, from whom you once said goodbye, an infinitely long time ago, because the path through time is long and arduous and often difficult – and yet, you see, you have arrived, the circle of your temporal existence can now close so that you can enter into my kingdom of eternity again.

This is My plan for each and every one of you at this time and at this hour, when I communicate this to you with these Words, which are as true as I Myself Am the Truth. Yes, these words come from My love to show you the way and the end of the way, which I am, and then a new way will open for you, then you will no longer walk this way through time, but enter into the depth of My presence; it will be a completely different being, which you cannot yet grasp, but can only touch with the senses of faith.

And yet it is something wonderful, and this promise, which I give you here, I place deep in your hearts so that you can always draw certainty from it: My Father is with me and guides me now in this earthly life back home into my spiritual home; but that always happens according to your loyalty and devotion, My children, and according to the space you give Me in your soul, the space I so urgently need and which yet still so often the world occupies in you.

And so I have set a measure for each of you; the size of your soul determines the measure of love in you, so each of you has exactly the measure that gives you complete bliss in eternity. But this vessel, your soul, must not be leaky. And so your soul must not have any holes either, but must be firm and tight, so that My Spirit cannot escape.

That is why I said and say: You must become new people, new people in Me. The old man must die, must perish, because 'old wineskins should not be patched, but new wineskins should be taken for good wine'. Only as new people can you be born again in Me. What do the holes in your soul represent? On the one hand, they are the earthly preferences of man, the old habits and physical pleasures, the attachment to certain desires that bind the soul to matter. On the other hand, there are the mental afflictions such as impatience, arrogance, condemnation of others, envy, unkindness...

Each of you can ask yourselves: 'Where do I take up space in my soul that should actually belong to Jesus?' And I say: I am constantly in contact with you during the day when you go into silence, into the space that I have prepared for you, this silent space of encounter with Me, in which I communicate with you what you need, where I give you missing insights and what you have to let go of in this world. That is why it is so important to use this time, to conquer these quiet hours in time, because I prepare for you minutes of eternity, in which My light shines and gives you what you need in your heart and also in your mind.

For the mind, too, must be cleansed, must clearly and distinctly surrender to love; and then it is a whole, a complete being in Me, when you give Me everything. Only then can I be born in you and only then does My Spirit remain in you and you no longer need to wonder: 'Dear God, why do I have no constancy, why do I lose You again and again?'

I am a complete God and I want to give myself completely to you, I want to give myself completely to you. Only when you no longer hold anything back for yourselves will you be born again in Me and I in you. This is a necessity, and I add: there are only a few who follow this path with such consistency, this complete surrender to My love in all areas of Irish existence.

Not that you deny your Irish tasks. It is necessary to take responsibility for one's life on this earth, to pursue a profession, to provide for one's family, to go out into the world, there is no other way. And yet you can live in this world but not be of this world, for you are not citizens of this world in the true sense. And I say to this: He who loves matter comes from matter and loves matter. These are mainly the souls that have worked their way up through the mineral, plant and animal kingdoms of this earth to become human.

These souls come from matter and they love matter. But you, who are here in this room, have come down to this earth from above, partly from stars, from light worlds, and some from the heavenly realms. And for this reason you also love the light and love, because you were taken from it – and you want to return to it. This is the yearning in your hearts, this urge towards the light and towards love, this pull towards me is the light in you that you have brought with you and that I have placed in you.

Light to light, love to love, spirit to spirit, so it happens, so it shall happen. Thus I draw you, thus I love you and thus I admonish you to give to earth that which belongs to it and to give to Me that which belongs to Me - all the time and more and more. Then you will enter into this life in Me and say: 'No longer do I live, but Jesus Christ lives in me.'

I am closer to you than you are to yourselves, I am in you and experience everything you experience. I have counted your tears, I have placed all your pain in My blood, which I shed for you on the cross. I have united your drops of blood with My blood, the blood I shed for all people... but very few accept it. Who recognises this work of redemption? But only those who recognise Me as Father in Jesus Christ. These also have the light that My act has brought about for all time and for eternity.

You, My children, have the grace to know this and can therefore accept this act, this work of redemption, in which you come before Me and say: 'My Father, You have also accomplished this work for me, You have suffered and bled for me and bled so that I may be freed from sin and from every burden. Yes, My children, I have carried your cross, your cross of sin, to which I was attached, to redeem you from the cross of matter.'

But you also know what follows the crucifixion - it is the resurrection. And what did I say on the cross? 'Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do.' So shall you also speak, My children. Yes, you are indeed nailed to the cross of matter in this time, and the world mocks your faith and gives you gall to drink, which is the bitter nourishment that this world offers you, and in part you must drink of this gall.

All your needs, which you have laid here at My feet and on My heart, I know very well how to treat in a divine way. What does that mean: in a divine way? It means that I place your offerings in My perfection. What happens to your needs then? Your needs are imbued with My mercy and thereby change, for the light you then have to look at your life situation is the light of My heart. What does that mean? You then look at your life with My eyes, My children.

What a difference: the eyes of man, who in their limitedness look at worldly events and who, if you take it right, are actually blind, and the eyes of God, with which every situation and every basis of life is revealed to you in a completely new light. In this way, your needs and pains are immersed in the blood of My act of Salvation, your suffering unites with My suffering, and in Me you are redeemed, so that there may be a joint resurrection in the Spirit: I in you and you in Me.

This is what I have planned for you, for each and every one of you here in this room and for all My children. It is entirely up to you to what extent you live in this consequence of discipleship. Give Me your life, and I will give you My life. It's that simple. It is not complicated. I reveal Myself in simple words to the immature and simple. The complicated do not understand the simple, but the simple understand Me, understand the simplicity of love. Thus I reveal Myself to you so that everyone has the opportunity to enter into My presence.

So believe and now trust firmly that I have placed all your lectures, your pleas and needs in My heart. Entrust these situations of yours to Me completely, for I take care of them. I will lead everything to a solution that is good for you. But time is Mine, so be patient too, but above all be confident that I am with you, that I love you, guide you and lead you at all times, even if you are not always aware of it and often do not understand My ways. I am with you always.
